A wonderful idea that works out really wellVon Bigi-12Last year I've started with book 3, that was already two weeks before Christmas and I was sad that I had missed two weeks. I read the stories to my daughter (6) and she loved them. So I'm happy to see a new edition this Christmas and be in time to get them before the 1st of December. There is a story for every of the 24 days leading up to Christmas and those are new children's tales that I have never heard before. They are told by the fairy Flavia to Amelie, and from the first to the last story, Amelie herself lives through a Christmas tale. My daughter enjoyed them a lot and is eager to hear the ones for the first two weeks too, they have the right length for a bedtime story, some are a bit shorter, some a bit longer, but all are meaningful and I myself enjoyed reading about Christmas customs from other countries. Perfect book to get into a Christmas mood and keep track of how many days are left 'till X-mas.

KurzbeschreibungFlavia, the mirror walking fae, appears in little Amelie's mirror 24 days before Christmas. Each evening, she tells little Amelie one enchanting Christmas story, which has never been told before. These magical tales are about children all over the world and their adventures at Christmas. In those 24 days, Amelie experiences her very own magical Christmas tale and only finds out on Christmas day if it has a happy ending. Make the Advent time extra special for your children with these wonderful new tales. This new edition features an additional 25th story for the day after Christmas.
