Autobiography of16th Century mystic Jeanne GuyonVon Ein KundeThis book is a must read for the true seeker. It tells the story of one woman's quest for union with God and the persecution she went through, the closer to the light she got. She was introduced at a young age to 'inward' prayer which changed her life dramatically. She was an inspiration to many, rich and poor. She wrote a small book explaining the 'silent' prayer and was persecuted terribly for it. But the more she was persecuted the more she was drawn by God to Himself.

KurzbeschreibungNo mortal could die in a more Christian disposition, or with more courage than he did, after having received the sacrament in a manner truly edifying. I was not present when he expired, for out of tenderness he made me retire. He was above twenty hours unconscious and in the agonies of his death. It was in the morning of July 21, 1676, that he died. Next day I entered into my closet, in which was the image of my divine spouse, the Lord Jesus Christ. I renewed my marriage-contract, and added thereto a vow of chastity, with a promise to make it perpetual, if M. Bertot my director, would permit me. After that I was filled with great joy, which was new to me, as for a long time past I had been plunged in the deepest bitterness.
