To show the world that the Father has sent the Son!Von IdeeSome of you might have thought, "What an old booklet it is! " when you saw the publishing year of this piece. Well, I must admit that I thought it's rather thin in size. Nevertheless, the message was strong enough: to love one another, as I have loved you, so that the world may know that the Father has sent me, and they will see that you are truly followers of mine. The message has a very clear structure and the author points out the aspects that I seldom thought of when I read the New Testament. By the way, he "speaks", rather than "writes" the book. 0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. A great analyzation of the necessity of Christian love Von Calthaer Francis Schaeffer defends the simple notion that a Christian must be known by their love in this short and meaningful book. Astounding in its simplicity but deep in its implications.

Kurzbeschreibung "It is possible to be a Christian without showing the mark, but if we expect non-Christians to know that we are Christians, we must show the mark." Christians have not always presented an inviting picture to the world. Too often we have failed to show the beauty of authentic Christian love. And the world has disregarded Christianity as a result. In our era of global violence and sectarian intolerance, the church needs to hear anew the challenge of this book. Decades ago Francis Schaeffer exhorted, "Love--and the unity it attests to--is the mark Christ gave Christians to wear before the world. Only with this mark may the world know that Christians are indeed Christians and that Jesus was sent by the Father." More than ever, the church needs to respond compassionately to a needy world. More than ever, we need to show the Mark.
