A Beautiful Short StoryVon Elisabeth Maria HofmannThe Monkey Jungle is the short story of a young girl named Castalia, who leaves her world to go on a fantastical journey and finds out just how brave she can really be. I enjoyed the authors way of telling this story, which is divided into sections, one for each new path Castalia takes. The vivid imagery in this tale is well-balanced with the fast-moving actions and the literary content.

Kurzbeschreibung
What are the strange noises Castalia hears every night from the trees across the street? She knows she's not imagining them. One cloudy morning while she sits lost in thought, she finds herself caught in a storm. Things change when a boy appears and offers to help her. They head off into the trees on an extraordinary journey. Castalia learns about believing in herself. She grows in knowledge, and learns the secrets to unlocking the power of her own inner strength. It will change the way she sees herself forever.
