Christian Emery are the perfect songVon Emmi RChristian and Emery's story is sweet, funny, heartbreaking and romantic. It's a story about falling in love, trust and forgiveness and overall believing in the power of love.Christian is the new guy at Emery's school and they bump into each other the first day of their senior year. Emery is this sassy girl who is happiest taking pictures with her camera. I didn't catch your name! That was sort of the point! She calls back laughing. Takes a lot more than getting knocked on my ass to get my name! Falling in love is a first for both of them and because of their pasts, both Christian and Emery struggle to accept their feelings in the beginning but once they do, it's beautiful. I'm starting to think that nothing about us is random. The way Christian looks at me, it's the same as I do him. We're perfectly imperfect. Woven in between the space of Christian and Emery's journey is a sweet second chance love story and with it comes the heartbreak. Christian was supposed to be my reward for being smart and doing things differently. Not my biggest nightmare. I was so angry at the person causing them this heartbreak and so sad for the Emery, who felt the need to sacrifice her own happiness, and Christian because he couldn't change Emery's mind. But Christian doesn't give up and fights for his girl

Kurzbeschreibung Well here we are. Senior Year. A year that by definition means I'll be one of about 300 other kids running my school. Greenville High. I know what you're all thinking. Oh no, here comes the book about the virgin wallflower who the popular guy meets and instantly falls for. Wrong. I'm not an ugly duckling that the cool cats use to make themselves look like even bigger jerks, and I'm definitely not a wallflower, though that whole virginal thing, well that's really none of your business. I'm just the girl more interested in taking pictures and playing on her acoustic than getting caught up in the petty drama that four years of high school is guaranteed to create. Until Christian. I know, I know. It's always a guy isn't it? Girl on the fast track to any college she chooses, always seems to get tripped up by the guy. But hear me out! This guy's different. You see, Christian Cayne isn't just some guy I almost ran down on my first day here and later fell in love with. I wish it were that simple. It would make what's gotta happen now easier. Christian is a lot of things to a lot of people since he landed here with his dad at the end of the summer, but in a couple of months, he's going to have to be one thing only to me. My step-brother. Previously spending her daylight hours freelance editing for friends and family, she happily traded in her gig for a rewarding career writing young adult novels. The best part being that in working from home, she gets to spend more time with her own set of real life angels. She's currently working on standalone titles, Fall and Remembering Sunday. When she's not writing, you can find her buried under the covers with her portable DVD player, watching marathons of Supernatural and Veronica Mars. When those aren't available, she can be found curled up in a corner with her e-reader and a plethora of books, falling in love with characters written so well she deems them her book boyfriends and girlfriends. If you want to find her, check Facebook or Twitter (@WinchesterBooks) as she may just have an addiction to both. If those don't work you can always keep up with her progress on her personal site.
