The author gives an introductionVon VicThis research paper presents a mosaic of powerful quotes and reflections in relation with investigative journalism. The ultimate aim is to explain the importance of investigative journalism, a phrase that is used interchangeably with rigour reporting and agenda-setting journalism in this paper despite differing nuances in academics. Also, some of the presented reports and stories are not necessarily perceived as purely investigative pieces of writing, they do however exhibit characteristics of investigative journalism to some extent.It is not compulsory to be intensely involved and informed about journalism as a style of writing or as some say religion in order to pursue the argumentation of this paper.Classical synopses of muckraking stories and investigative journalistic achievements are rather kept short and serve as a basis for further examinations on rigour reporting. Moreover, the focus is on the effects of investigative journalism, consequences in state of its absence and eventually its importance.
